

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED BY SOO TRAIN

DUNEGAN HEADS FIRST NATIONAL AS PRESIDENT

Starts at Bottom and Reaches Top in Local Financial Organization

J. W. Dunegan has been elected president of the First National bank of Stevens Point and is now titular as well as active head of the institution. Incidentally the bank is now a strictly local institution as a result of the purchase by Mr. Dunegan of the stock holdings of W. D. Connor of Marshfield, whom he succeeds as president. The advancement of Mr. Dunegan to the post of president of the First National is a tribute to a man who, from the very day the institution was founded, has been identified with it. Beginning as an all-around office assistant on August 1, 1883, Dr. Dunegan has, by hard work and close application to sound business principles, advanced step by step to the highest post in the gift of the institution. He was made assistant cashier in January, 1886, cashier and director on January 10, 1900 and vice president in January, 1918.

In his new position as president Mr. Dunegan will continue actively "in the harness." Associated with him will be the following officers and employees: Vice president, H. J. Week. Cashier, J. V. Berens. Assistant cashier, L. C. Larsen. Teller, O. E. von Neupert. Discount clerk, Miss Theresa Sullivan. Auditor, Miss Cicely Dinneen. Bookkeeper, Miss Geraldine Archambault.

Bookkeeper, Miss Josephine Tagatz. Bookkeeper, George Oertel. Collection clerk, Ralph Woyak. Stenographer, Louise Ashmun. Janitor, Harry Eddie. Officers and directors just elected by other banks in Portage county and vicinity follow:

Portage County Bank, Almond President, O. A. Crowell. Vice president, E. G. Crowell. Cashier, George G. Crowell. Assistant Cashier, Fred Heibach. Directors, O. A. Crowell, E. G. Crowell, George H. Crowell, J. W. Dunegan. Security State Bank, Amherst Jct. President, M. K. Hanson. Vice president, N. J. Loberg. Cashier, O. A. Nelson. Assistant Cashier, Alta M. Nelson. Directors—M. K. Hanson, N. J. Loberg, O. A. Nelson, L. L. Nelson, J. W. Dunegan. Wausau County Bank, Plainfield President, H. E. Pratt. Vice president and cashier, G. D. Sargent. Vice president, J. W. Dunegan. Assistant cashier, E. W. Schultz. Directors—H. E. Pratt, Buchanan Johnson, J. A. Blair, G. D. Sargent, J. W. Dunegan.

ALL JURY CASES BUT TWO ARE CONTINUED

Kill Damage Action to be Opened in Court Here on Wednesday Morning

(From Monday's Daily) All remaining jury cases on the December calendar of circuit court for Portage county were continued until the May term of court, with the exception of three, this morning.

Two of the three cases will be tried before a jury, while in the third, the jury was waived and the case will be argued before the court.

Inability of Attorney George B. Nelson to appear in court because of illness caused the postponement of two of the cases, those instituted by R. A. Cook and Miss Margaret Clifford against R. E. Newby. The other cases which were continued were: Otto Prochnow vs. Mary Kujawa; Breidenstein-Tozier company vs. Morton Corporation, et al.

The jury was waived in the case of School District No. 7 vs. John Knitter and Mary Knitter. Court was adjourned this morning until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning when the damage action of N. F. Kile vs. Carl Anderson, Anton Anderson, Nick Larson and Marcus Hanson will be taken up. The other remaining case to be tried before a jury is that of Fred O. Roberts against Albert W. Mahley. These two cases are said to be the biggest scheduled on the calendar for this term of court.

Ireland Turned Over To Her Own People Change Made Today

Dublin, Jan. 16—Ireland today became a self governing state. L. Fitzalan, viceroy of Ireland, turned over his power of government to Michael Collins and the provisional southern cabinet, in a dramatic meeting at Dublin castle.

At the same time word came from the war office at London, that ten battalions of British troops were ordered to evacuate Ireland immediately.

The reins of Irish legislation, as provided for by the treaty signed by the Irish representatives and the British cabinet, were formally handed to Collins, as an acceptance of Ireland's international affairs, in the name of the southern provisional government. British authorities will retire from Ireland at once.

NAVAL LIMITATION SUDDENLY HELD UP NOBODY TELLS WHY

Possible That Shantung Settlement Has Something to Do with Unexpected Delay

Washington, Jan. 16—Plans for putting the full disarmament committee approval on the naval limitation treaty this afternoon, went awry today.

The meeting of the committee, called last night for 3:30 this afternoon, was cancelled and a meeting of the full far eastern committee was substituted. The official British spokesman, in announcing the shift today, claimed to be unaware of the reason for it. The Japs are believed responsible for the sudden hitch in the conference plan. It is understood that the Tokio reply on the question of calling a halt on fortifications of the two islands near Japan, is contrary to that provided in the treaty and some further negotiations are considered necessary.

Supporting this view, the big five chairmen were called to meet this forenoon apparently to prepare the way for a subsequent meeting of the full disarmament committee. At the same time, the Shantung negotiators were summoned for a session. In other quarters there was a feeling that the uncertainty concerning the settlement of the Shantung problems had perhaps caused the deferment of the disarmament meeting. In this connection, it was recalled that heretofore the American group had regarded settlement of the far east as interwoven with the settlement of the naval treaty. It was regarded possible that the Americans wanted to see how Shantung fared, before definitely closing the naval situation.

DISMISS JURY BY NIGHTFALL IN BURCH SUIT

Little Chance Left For Agreement—New Trial To Follow at Once

Los Angeles, Jan. 16—The jury in the trial of Arthur C. Burch, for the alleged murder of John Belton Kennedy probably will be dismissed by nightfall today unless a verdict is agreed upon.

The jury today was reported standing 10 to 2 for conviction. Twenty-two ballots had been taken. "We are ready to prosecute again at once, if the jury disagrees," said District Attorney Woolwine.

Ever since four p. m. Friday, the jury has tried to decide whether Burch fired the shotgun which killed Kennedy near the bungalow of Madelyn Obenchain on Beverly Glen.

IF FRANCE STAYS OUT ENGLAND WILL ADMIT RUSSIA AND GERMANY

Lloyd George Prepared to Go Ahead With New League of Nations In Spite of Government

London, Jan. 16—A new association of nations, including Germany and Russia, rising out of the economic conference at Geneva, is Lloyd George's plan for rehabilitation of the old world.

With his plans for European reconstruction shaken by the uncompromising attitude of the new French government, under Premier Poincare, Lloyd George returned to London and made preparations for fresh international action.

He has three dominating ideas as to what must be done in Europe: 1. The entente, he believes, must be thoroughly overhauled and Anglo-French differences taken out. The association of the allies, the premier feels, should form a nucleus of wider European settlement, similar to that reached at Washington.

2. The Geneva economic conference must be made a real demum for European economic reconstruction and must be made a real medium for the discussion of no one nation can destroy.

3. An association of nations including the late enemy and Russia, and if possible the United States should be the outgrowth of the parley, Lloyd George believes.

If France will not join in a scheme for an association of nations, Lloyd George is ready to proceed, with the cooperation of the other European nations, to the restoration of Russia and Germany.

SOO FREIGHT HITS CAR ON WAUKESHA CROSSING

William J. Burrow, Waukesha insurance man, narrowly escaped death a few days ago at a crossing on the Soo Line in that city. A freight train suddenly loomed up as he was crossing the right of way in his car and unable to stop the machine because of ice on the road, he "stepped on the gas." The locomotive caught the rear end of the car, wrecking it and pushing it to one side. Mr. Burrow was uninjured.

BANQUET, INITIATION IN FORESTER ORDER

High Degrees Conferred by State Officers and Banquet is Tendered

Members of the Catholic Order of Foresters to the number of one hundred and ten assembled at K. C. hall Sunday afternoon to witness the initiation of a class of candidates into the fraternity and partake of the banquet which followed.

Between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock the protective and exalted degrees were conferred by State Chief Ranger O'Brien, Vice Chief Ranger Mangold, State Secretary Fox, Trustee McGillivray and several officers of St. Stephen's and St. John's courts of this city, both courts being represented in the list of candidates. A banquet prepared by Mrs. W. F. Cooper and assistants was served shortly after 6 and included such good things to eat as roast beef, mashed potatoes, baggins, cabbage salad, white and raisin bread, apple pie a la mode, with coffee and cigars.

Those called upon to address the big gathering included all the state court officers named above, Rev. James C. Moran and Rev. S. A. Elbert, and J. W. Dunegan. Beginning with Father Hogan's address of welcome and continuing for nearly two hours there was a flow of orations the equal of which has seldom been heard in Stevens Point.

FEDERALLY RECOGNIZED

Local Guard Unit to Receive Equipment in Few Days

Word was received by Captain A. L. Oberst of the first battalion headquarters detachment and combat train of the 120th field artillery, Wisconsin national guard, Saturday, of the federal recognition of the unit.

The federal recognition of the unit dates back to November 23, 1921, when the unit was mustered into the guard. Announcement was made today by Captain Oberst that the unit would hold regular drills at the new armory building at the fair grounds on Wednesday evening of each week.

With the letter came a note stating that equipment for the combat train would arrive in the city within a few days.

Blacklisting of Miners Causes Awful Suffering President Harding Told

Washington, Jan. 16—Sufferings of the blacklisted union miners of West Virginia were placed before President Harding today by a delegation lead by a woman and her two little girls.

Mrs. Alice Underwood, West Virginia, a widow and the children, Halie, aged 12, and Dorothy, 10, shabbily attired and visibly nervous in the presence of the president, told Harding the suffering imposed by blacklisting in the coal fields. The miners and their families are practically penniless, having been out of work for several months, the committee said. Hundreds of men, women and children are clothed in rags. Scores are without shoes and most of the children cannot attend school, because of lack of clothing, Harding was told.

STOP TAX EXEMPTION

Treasury Department Ready to Stop Further Issue of Exempt Bonds

Washington, Jan. 16—The treasury department will support a constitutional amendment prohibiting further issuance of tax exempt securities. Secretary Mellon told the house ways and means committee today.

Mellon endorsed the McFadden resolution, which the committee is now considering. Between $10,000,000,000 and $15,000,000,000 worth of the tax free securities are now outstanding, Mellon estimated. The proposed amendment would not affect these.

BODY CARRIED FOR MILES ON ENGINE PILOT

Mangled Remains Dropped Off at Waukega By Jar Of Moving Freight

(From Monday's Daily)

Blood discovered at Medina Junction on the pilot of the locomotive pulling east bound extra freight train No. 2440 on the Soo Line brought first knowledge of an early morning tragedy which cost the life of an unidentified man three miles this side of Waukega today.

The train crew of passenger No. 11, notified at Medina to be on the watch, discovered pieces of the body strewn along the right of way near the west end of the passing track at Waukega. A section foreman from Waukega discovered blood on the tracks three miles west of Waukega at about the same time.

Tragedy Suspected Members of the freight train crew including Engineer A. Schroeder and Conductor George Langacker, both of Fond du Lac, knew nothing of what had occurred until reaching Medina, when the discovery of blood on the pilot led them to quickly suspect what had happened.

The victim is believed to be a resident of Waukega county, who had taken the Soo right of way in walking to that city and probably failed to hear the train approaching.

Body Jarred From Pilot It is possible that he was not killed when struck by the locomotive, but was rendered unconscious and lay high upon the pilot. The trainmen did not stop at Waukega but the jar of the train probably dislodged the body where the remains were found. In falling, the body was ground to pieces underneath the wheels.

Dark at the Time It was probably still quite dark when the man was struck by the train, which accounts for the fact that neither engineer or fireman saw the accident. The freight left Stevens Point at 6:40 a. m.

LOCAL PEOPLE BACK

Late Hal Martin Made Desperate Efforts to Save His Life

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Martin and Mrs. Charles Cartmill returned to Stevens Point late Friday from Madison, where they attended the funeral of the late Hal Martin.

The funeral of the late Mr. Martin was held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Baptist church at Madison. It was attended by between 300 and 400 people from Madison. The pall bearers were chosen from among members of the Madison bar, in which Mr. Martin held membership.

The deceased, who lost his life in Lake Monona at Madison into which his car dropped through the thin ice to the bottom, 30 feet below, made a desperate attempt to save himself, evidences found later show.

Mr. Martin was an expert swimmer, and it is thought that as his car went down into the water, he tore off his overcoat and gloves, crawled out of the car, and rose to the surface. The ice where he went through was but half an inch thick, and it is believed that he swam about the surface, attempting to get out of the icy water for some time before he gave up the struggle. The thin, slippery ice prevented him from getting out and saving his life. It is believed.

STEVENS POINT GAZETTE

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1922

Journal Printing Company, Publisher Entered at the postoffice at Stevens Point, Wis., as second class mail matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

For weekly edition of the Gazette and Journal. In Portage county, outside the city of Stevens Point, $2 a year; six months, $1.25; three months, 75 cents. In the city of Stevens Point and outside Portage county, $2.50 a year; six months, $1.50; three months, $.91. All subscriptions payable in advance and to be stopped at expiration of term for which subscription is paid.

Unmailable Matter

The Journal is often asked to publish information on the results of lotteries for various local causes, and even to advertise them, and it sometimes is difficult to explain to the promoters of these enterprises why drawings which are lawful cannot be described in the newspapers. Indeed many newspapers ignore the law on this matter and that makes it all the harder for those publications trying to comply with the federal statute.

It seems that news concerning the awarding of phonographs, jewelry, automobiles, and the like is published in just as much detail and as promulgated as other news of the community in many cases, and so-and-so is congratulated upon having held the "lucky number" that drew the prize at So-and-So's store, and so on.

Newspapers containing such information are unmailable, and the publishers who disregard the postal laws and regulations are likely at any time to have their editions held up, to say nothing about many more serious consequences.

Section 547 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, listing unmailable matter, includes "all matter concerning any lottery, so-called gift concert, or other enterprises of chance, or concerning schemes devised for the purpose of obtaining money or property under false pretenses."

Here is a paragraph from page 66, U. S. Official Postal Guide:

"4. The attention of postmasters and railway postal clerks is directed to section 842 of the Postal laws and regulations, by the provisions of which newspapers or other publications of any kind, circulars and pamphlets, containing advertisements of lotteries, gift schemes offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lottery, or chance, or lists of the prizes awarded in pursuance of such schemes, and all other matter relating to them, are described to be unmailable. The terms 'lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lottery, or chance,' as used in that section, include 'guessing' or 'estimating' contests for prizes, as well as drawings and raffles of every kind, whether general or local, whether for private gain or in aid of charitable, educational or religious objects, and whether the consideration for chances be money or other thing of value. Enterprises in which prizes are distributed among purchasers of merchandise in stated amounts, or among subscribers for publications, or for shares of corporate stock, through the medium of drawings or guessing contests, are lotteries within the meaning of that section. Publications, circulars, cards or pamphlets containing advertisements of such enterprises, or other notices or information of any kind relating to them, would be withdrawn from the mails and treated in accordance with sections 547, 574, and 593 of the P. L. & R."

For the publisher the safest and best rule is to take no chances and refuse to print anything which would seem to lay the paper open to criticism by the federal authorities.

Ninety Per Cent Working

Highest estimates of the number of unemployed men in Stevens Point is 200. This includes men temporarily laid off because of slack work who will soon be back again on their old jobs.
It is always the rule on the railroad to reduce crews in the fall and to begin putting men on again gradually after New Year's.

Three hundred men out of jobs, taking this high figure, is bad as it is to them and their families. A good report in these times. The city has fully 3,000 men. Ninety per cent of them are working, producing and earning money. The town is in good shape while it is 90 per cent busy. The purchasing power of the community is by no means crippled.

Watch the crowd any night at the movies. Stevens Point movies are famous for good attractions. They offer classy entertainment at cheap prices. While the theatres are not filled every night, they sell out to capacity for the first show four or five nights a week. Patrons seem happy and prosperous. Paper money is steadily going in through the ticket windows. The ice cream stores are busy every evening. All the signs show that Stevens Point is in pretty good condition. Not everyone is working, and a little city like ours cannot pretend to provide work for all who draft through or who come on the assumption that it is easy to pick up a good job. We have many reasons for congratulation. The people of Stevens Point at work are numerous enough and well enough provided with money to give whatever help may be needed to the small percentage of our townsmen not so fortunate.

The Bill Forbidding Mention of Betting Odds in Sporting Events

"This measure," said Senator Stanley of Kentucky, "is designed not to prevent racing but to limit freedom of speech. It would lay an arbitrary restriction not upon the racetracks but upon the press. To directly and arbitrarily limit freedom of speech in order to reach some possible wrongdoer is essentially vicious and indefensible. I cannot too strongly express my deep and grounded abhorrence of this method of indirectly usurping the legislative functions of the states."
"This bill will not prevent either racing or wagers, but it will restrict the freedom of the press. When you enact such a measure as this you do not merely break down one constitutional guarantee; you imperil or destabilize them all."

"Are you attacking the bill on grounds of unconstitutionality or policy?" inquired Senator Borah.

"Both," replied Senator Stanley. "It is hardly necessary to speak of its unconstitutionality. I am more concerned about its folly and unwisdom.
It is absolutely a violation of the spirit of the constitution, and I seriously doubt whether the law, even as applied in the lotteries cases, can be extended so far."

Human Loss in Dollars

Nine million men are said to have been killed in the great world war—nine million men whose average life expectancy was about 35 years. This means that $15,000,000 years of productive human activity, worth $500 a year net, was thus lost to the world.
Expressed in dollars it means that one hundred and fifty-eight billion dollars worth of human lives were destroyed by this war. Added to this, perhaps, as much more was lost by the disablement of those who still live but who have been converted into human liabilities—not only worthless as producers but who from now on must consume wealth that is being produced by others.—From Life Insurance Mirror.

GENERAL HAAN TO RETIRE IN MARCH

Commander of 32nd Division May Make His Home in Wisconsin

Major General William G. Haan, who commanded the Thirty-second division, Wisconsin-Michigan national guardsmen, during the period of training at Waco, Texas, and who later led the division to honors on the battle fields of France, and has been for 36 years an officer in the regular army, will retire from service on March 31, 1922.

The announcement was made at Washington, where General Haan is serving on the general staff. It is believed that General Haan will make his home in Wisconsin or Michigan to be with the "boys" he loved. He was recently booked to take command of the Philippines but at his own request the order was changed.

General Haan, when the Thirty-second division was threatened with the fate of a replacement division in France without an opportunity to show its mettle, interposed and the A. E. F. headquarters granted his request to lead the division into the lines intact. General Haan was loved by the national guardsmen of the two states. He has thousands of friends in this section of the country.

The general was officially recognized by General Pershing as one of the most efficient generals in the war. At the time of the signing of the armistice General Haan was in command of an army corps. He asked that he might return as commander of his division, the Thirty-second, and as commander he returned to the United States.

PUBLIC OPINION

Lest We Forget

Editor Journal: If citizens could only remember, politicians would have to become statesmen or lose their jobs. It seems sometimes as though well-informed and even educated persons remember political facts little better than the uneducated. Anyhow the politicians deliberately bank on the people forgetting.

The papers are now reporting Vice-president Coolidge as coming out west to tell the farmers how the new tariff that is to be is to save them out of all their troubles. It is assumed in this that the farmers will have forgotten that ex-President Wilson a year ago told them that under present conditions legislation would do them no good, and that tariff laws would be of little avail. The farmers are now supposed to have forgotten that an emergency tariff law was to give them relief until a little better one could be constructed. Mr. Farmer is to understand that our government is starting all over again to get relief for the farmer by a new tariff. These politicians are good psychologists. They know in times past citizens have heard and have read in their papers, a thousand times how the business world has been saved, to these many years, by a tariff. The farmer is expected to forget about the failure of the temporary tariff, and remember only these old sayings.

The farmer is expected to have forgotten about our wonderful prosperity under a Democratic tariff in the years following 1913. However, the truth is that the tariff does not have a great deal to do with prosperity. We prosper or we suffer business reverses mostly in spite of tariffs.

The Republicans for many years have made out of the tariff a tin god, and have fallen down and worshiped it. Mr. Coolidge wants all the farmers to now fall down on their marrow bones and worship his tariff. Great is Diana of the Ephesians; Great is Tariff of the Americans.

The farmers of Portage county might very properly advise Mr. Coolidge to remain silent about a tariff on commodities that must be exported and thus unfavorably affected by a high tariff, and ask him to answer just one question. Why is it that our meat dealers in Stevens Point either will not buy meats of our farmers at all, or pay them only three or four cents a pound and at the same time keep right on buying of the packers, and selling their product to the people of Stevens Point at from 10 to 15 cents a pound more than they would have to if they bought of the farmers?
A current grim joke is, What is the difference between pork and hog? The answer is 27 cents.

Reader, (whether farmer or resident of Stevens Point) you would like to know the answer to this question yourself, wouldn't you? Well, if you go to inquiring, some well meaning but not well informed people will throw a lot of dust in your eyes. They will say farmers do not know how to kill hogs. (If you were brought up on a farm, you will know whether this is true). They will tell you the meat should be inspected. But we have a competent inspector, and the meat is inspected. (Anyhow a butcher can easily tell for himself).

The real reason it is understood is that the packers make the dealers buy of them. If any dealer becomes recalcitrant, the packers have ways to get him. If necessary they can run opposition to him and drive him out of business.

Why can we not all ask Mr. Coolidge now that he has come west, whether he can not do something about this raw inquiry. Let us ask him if he cannot give us a law which will enable meat dealers to buy of the packers only when and how much they desire?

It is well known the wholesale grocers are fighting in court right now to keep the packers from choking the life out of them by unfair advantages. It is clear from the preceding that the packers are choking the life out of fair competition through the farmers.

If ten thousand much interested people in this county signed a petition asking Mr. Coolidge to answer, the matter might possibly get attention.
It is not likely to unless something of this sort is done.

VILLAGE STIRRED
OVER BURGLARIES AT EIGHT PLACES

Bloodhound Follows Trail from Plainfield Village to Bancroft

Plainfield authorities, stirred up over eight burglaries in the business district of that village Tuesday night, secured a bloodhound from Mauston which picked up the trail and followed it until the officers were convinced that it led to Bancroft in Portage county.

A posse was quickly formed and made a quick trip to Bancroft, taking the dog with them, where it picked up the scent and followed it to the North Western station, where it is believed the robber boarded an early morning east bound passenger train.

Clues prompted the officers to continue their search and the bloodhound was taken to Fond du Lac. According to a report from Plainfield, the animal succeeded in picking up the trail at Fond du Lac which led to a restaurant and then back to the station. Another clue led the men to believe the robber had boarded a train for Milwaukee. Into Milwaukee they trailed him, but there the scent was lost.

Many Places Entered

Excitement plenty was in evidence Tuesday morning at Plainfield when the business places began to open up for the day, and it was discovered that the village had been systematically burglarized.

The first place entered was the Plainfield garage, where a sledge and a number of small tools were procured. The man then evidently proceeded down the street. It is believed that the Walker-Gwin store was the next place entered. The outer doors of the safe were unlocked but the combination was set on the inner doors and the robber proceeded to sledge them to the best of his ability. The only apparent result was to practically ruin that part of the safe to such an extent that the services of an expert were required to get it open. Thirty dollars was taken from a cash register.

Petrick's store was the next place visited and $30 in change was taken from the cash register and also a pocketbook in a desk containing some money left over from a bathing house fund. Millington's jewelry store was then entered through a rear door after a thick plate glass window in it had been broken to permit the marauder to reach through and unfasten a bolt on the inside. The cash register here was rifled of $25. One watch was also taken but the safe was not tampered with, and no other jewelry was taken.

Few Places Missed

Evidently crossing the street, the man then gained entrance to Pratt's drug store, where he took $5 in small change, all that had been left in the cash register. Back again to the north side of the street, he tackled the front entrance of Gould's furniture store, where a jimmy was freely used but failed to effect entrance. The village billiard hall was next visited and entered through a front door.
After visiting the cash register and getting nothing, the man attacked the safe, which was badly battered but not opened.

Sledge Is Abandoned

Proceeding down the street, he threw the sledge into a pile of ashes near the Sun office and started for the railroad track, stopping at the Baker-Upham Lumber company office, where he evidently opened the door with a skeleton key. Nothing of value was taken. The next stop was at the J. A. Blair potato office, where a window was broken. Nothing was stolen here. The trail led from there to the railroad track and struck north to Bancroft, to which place the marauder was later traced.

Suspect Arrested

At the North Western station at Bancroft authorities found a man and took him into custody on general principles until he could give a satisfactory explanation of his presence, which he later did, proving to be a resident of Almond on his way from Junction City, where he had been employed.

Tracks of the man were found leading to Plainfield from Bancroft and the suspicion is that he came to Bancroft on the 10 o'clock train that night, walked to Plainfield, committed the burglaries and hiked back in time to catch the early morning train for Fond du Lac. At a number of places backtracks were found with a view to tracing possible pursuers off his trail.

By stipulation of the attorneys, the case of Stanislaus Czerwinski vs.

POOR APPLETON TRADE
CLOSES LOCAL STORE

Model Garment Taken Over by Sheriff Will Probably Go Into Bankruptcy

(From Friday's Daily.)

As the result of unsatisfactory business conditions at Appleton the Model Garment shop, located at 416 Main street here, was taken over by Sheriff John Berry on Thursday, on an execution of a judgment of New York creditors.

S. E. Kaufman, one of the members of the company, said that the claims represented in the execution amounted to about $700, which he could have paid, but he did not deem it wise to do so in justice to the other creditors.
He informed the Journal that the Chicago creditors, representing most of the $27,000 in liabilities of the firm, had agreed to an extension of a year where he had asked only three months, but the New York creditors had refused and closed him up. It was expected that the Chicago creditors today or Saturday would file a petition in bankruptcy against the Model, putting all the creditors on the same basis.

Mr. Kaufman said that the assets are worth about $29,000 against $27,000 liabilities, but as most of the assets consist of fall goods, which will fall rapidly in value as time goes on, he could not hope they would bring in, under a forced bankruptcy sale, a large percentage on the liabilities.
Worth 100 cents on the dollar in the fall, he said that at this time fall goods are worth perhaps 50 cents on the dollar and in March might not be worth 10 cents. The hope is that an early settlement will make it possible to resume before the stock has depreciated too much.

The Model Garment Shop has been in operation here for two and one-half years and was quite successful until last fall. Last spring the company established a store at Appleton, which has been a big money loser from first to last, and the burden of the Appleton store finally proved too heavy for the Stevens Point store especially as all merchants have been cutting prices sharply in recent months.

MRS. J. KIEDROWSKI IS FINED IN COURT

Judge Makes Assessment of $225 and Costs Totalling $49; Husband Discharged

Mrs. John Kiedrowski, 318 Fourth avenue, was assessed a fine of $225 and costs totalling $49 in Judge W. F.
Owen's court Friday morning, she having pleaded guilty a week ago to a charge of manufacturing and selling intoxicating liquor.

A charge of the same nature, preferred against John Kiedrowski, her husband, was dismissed by the judge.
Upon Mrs. Kiedrowski's plea of guilty being entered in court a week ago, sentence was deferred until it could be determined who the responsible party was in connection with the alleged manufacture of liquor in the Kiedrowski home. The costs in the action against her husband were assessed against Mrs. Kiedrowski.

The case against Joseph Gollon, charged with having in her possession and control intoxicating liquor, scheduled to have been heard by Judge Owen Friday morning, was adjourned to January 20.

Writer

A writer for "Boston Ideas," a weekly newspaper published in Boston, made a trip through the northwest last summer and gained a lasting and favorable impression of Stevens Point.

"Just outside of Stevens Point, a town of something over 11,000 population, there was a big sign which sounded most cordial. It read like this:
'Delighted to have you with us. We like you. Have a good time. Come often.' Signed by the mayor, I believe."

Reference to the Yellowstone trail and the Wisconsin highway system is made by the writer in a previous paragraph as follows:

"As we drove out of Eau Claire we noticed this sign greeting people who should enter: 'What's your hurry?
Eau Claire is a friendly city.' We followed the Wisconsin State roads on this part of our trip although the Yellowstone trail thus far pursues the same course. From Eau Claire to Chippewa Falls the number was 11, to Colby it was 16 and to Marshfield 13."

MOLIERE UNHAPPY IN LIFE

Great French Playwright and Comedian Seems to Have Had the Usual Fate of Genius.

Armande Beljart, beautiful, witty and quick tempered, an actress of rare ability and charm, was the wife of Moliere, the leading comedian of his time, and one of the greatest in the world's history. Under twenty, when she married the playwright, then a man of forty, given to spells of moodiness and abstraction and endowed with all the eccentricities of genius, it would, as one biographer has said, be little short of a miracle had the marriage been a happy one.

Attracted by her beauty, the playwright, once married, did little to show his love. His interest in his work kept him away from his young bride a large part of the time, and the old story of the neglected wife was the result. Armande loved admiration, and when she did not get it from her husband, she flirted, harnessfully to be sure, but sufficiently to arouse his fierce jealousy.

The pair quarreled constantly, even bringing their disagreements before

Louis XIV, with whom they were favorites. When their first son was born Louis acted as godfather. In spite of their stormy life, they were passionately attached to each other, and Moliere wrote many of his plays to provide Armande with suitable roles. They were married only 11 years when he died.

I established my lending library in Melbourne a new patron the other day took out the Bible on the customary terms, value down, and 3d. charged for the reading. He had come in asking for "The Book of Job." He looked like a person fresh from Tootlembuck as I ran a puzzled eye over him. "The Book of Job?" said I. "I haven't it separately, but you'll find it in the Bible." "Gimme one, and show me where," said the caller. I pointed out the Book of Job, and my new customer took the Bible out.

He returned it on the third day.
"When was that writ?" said he. I explained that it was about 2,000 years since it was first put upon the market. "I s'pose an old chap name of Job up at the Slip couldn't have writ it?" I didn't think it at all likely. "I always told the misses Job was a liar," said the new customer. He went away, but about a week later I received a letter from the Slip. It assured me that Horis Job, livin' there, did write this book, and what's more said he'd do it again if any city bloke disbelieved him.

HOW THE MOLLUSKS TRAVEL

Attach Themselves to Water Fowl and Are Thus Transported for Considerable Distances.

One of the problems that continually confronts the naturalist is to account for the distribution of identical forms of life among widely separated localities. Investigation frequently shows that this has been accomplished in many ways that appear quite simple when once discovered, although one would hardly have thought of them in advance of their actual detection.

Some interesting facts have been brought out concerning the dispersion of fresh-water mollusks, accounting for their appearance in remote and isolated ponds. It appears that water fowl play an important part in this work. Ducks have been known to carry mussels attached to their feet a hundred miles or more. Bivalve mol-lusks not infrequently cling to the toes of wading birds, and are thus transported for considerable distances.

Even aquatic insects have been known to carry small fresh-water mollusks attached to their legs.

In such manner does Nature compel the various inhabitants of the earth to assist one another whether they will or not.

VALUE OF DEEP BREATHING

Western Peoples Have Not a Proper Comprehension of Its Immense Importance.

Singers are not the only persons who need to learn to breathe deeply; the practice is good for every one, say the neurologists, and they add that we of the western lands have paid altogether too little attention to correct respiratory and still less to the good effects of deep breathing.

In the Orient they look very differ-ently upon it and lay great stress upon its constant and regular practice. The eastern philosophers teach that the mental powers, self-control, clear vision, happiness and even morals are dependent in great measure upon this practice of deep breathing.

It includes the play of the whole respiratory apparatus—every part of the lungs, every air cell, every respiratory muscle, is to be brought into action. In modified breathing only part of the cells are filled with oxygenated air, and the muscles are only partly employed.

To breathe deeply requires that one should stand erect and inhale steadily through the nostrils. First fill the lower part of the lungs, then the middle part by pushing out the lower ribs and breast bone, and finally the higher part by elevating the chest. Hold the breath for a few seconds and exhale slowly through the mouth.

Deep breathing promotes a sort of massage of the internal organs and produces a soothing effect on the nerves.

DIDN'T YIELD TO TREATMENT

But Young Physician's Concern Over Patient's Eye Was Really Wholly Unnecessary.

From one of the larger hospitals in Kansas City comes the story (guaranteed under the foods and drugs act) of a young doctor and an equally young and well-trained nurse, who collaborated in the conscientious treatment of the left eye of a patient who had been sent to the hospital for an operation.

It is said that, following the operation, the pupil of the patient's left eye failed to dilate in accordance to instructions in the book, and the young physician became somewhat concerned. As to just why the pupil was expected to grow larger at the time is not known to the layman, but the fact remains that the doctor prescribed an eye bath and instructed the attending nurse to apply it every half hour throughout the night. After the eye had been bathed, the lid was pulled down and massaged thoroughly.

And so, every half hour, the nurse carried out the doctor's instructions.
When daylight came a bandage was placed over the optic to protect it from the strong rays of the morning light.

At nine o'clock the young doctor entered the patient's room and asked the man how his eye felt.

"Well," he replied, "it feels as good as it has for a long while. You see, it has been a glass eye ever since I was five years old."—Kansas City Times.

The Castle of Lewes.

The noble castle of Lewes, in England, now acquired for the nation, has a history going back to the fierce days of the Saxon invasions. In Athelstan's day it possessed two mounds, and the Lewes silver coin was a recognized coin of the realm. The conqueror gave the town to William of Warren who found a fortress ready to hand much like that he had left behind him in Normandy.

Lewes, which has been famous for long years for bonfires and fireworks, used to persecute Quakers and others;

thus in 1659 a party of Quakers were assembled for worship on the castle green, when "rude people" fell upon them with swords, guns and pikes, and assailed them with squibs. So squib-baling is proved to be one of the most ancient institutions of the town.

Possibility of Saving Coal.

An ordinary passenger locomotive consumes a pound of fuel for every 52 feet it travels. Each unnecessary stop, made with a heavy freight or passenger train, represents a fuel loss of from 500 to 750 pounds of coal, depending on the weight of the train the length of the stop and the grade conditions. A brake-line air leak on a train of 50 freight cars has been known to cause a loss of as much as 2,500 pounds of coal in a ten-hour period. The loss of coal each time a modern locomotive stops for five minutes is about 75 pounds. If locomotive friction were to save a fifth more than one horsepower of coal out of each ton used, the total saving would be equal to nearly one per cent of all the coal handled.—Ford W.

Parsons, in World's Work

He Cured Her.

The absent-minded husband was prone to forget the mailing of important letters given him by his wife when he started off for the office in the morning. So she had resorted to the old trick of placing a postcard addressed to herself among the envelopes. When she didn't receive the card in the late afternoon mail she could reproach him at night.

It was very embarrassing. So the absent-minded husband decided that he would have to stop it. One day he wrote a message on the back of the telling-telling postcard. It read:

"No dessert. I didn't forget to mail the letters." After that his wife abandoned the scheme.—Milwaukee Jour-of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association, containing the anouncement, printed in the Journal's sport page Saturday evening, of the action of the W. I. A. A. in barring Razner and Vaughn from participating in High school basketball on charges of professionalism.

In his letter Mr. Neverman stated that investigation of the association found that the Fond du Lac tourney was purely a professional affair, and the decision of the board was made on that disclosure.

To Call Neverman

Principal Vincent today stated that he was planning to get in touch with Mr. Neverman by telephone late this afternoon and give him the local school's stand on the matter. "We are going to get to the bottom of this affair," Mr. Vincent stated to the Journal, "and find out just who is pushing the complaint against the local players."

Students at the High school were indignant over the announcement first made by the Journal Saturday evening. The decision of the W. I. A. A. came as a shock to school authorities, students and the players themselves, for there was no thought here that the two men were under any professional stigma whatsoever. The letter which Principal Vincent received from Mr. Neverman early in the season declaring Razner eligible after the matter had first come up seemed to settle the question. The local school was not aware that a meeting of the board was to be held at Milwaukee or it would have had a representative there, it is stated. Local opinion is that the decision was arrived at without having both sides of the case in hand.

BORGENS MAKING GOOD WITH HIGH GRADE HOLSTEINS

Amherst Farmers Win Wide Recognition With Blood of Champs in Herd

Ole Borgen and Son is the name of a farm partnership well known in Portage county Holstein circles as owner of some of the best Black and White blood in the state. How they secured this position is an interesting story of foresight and good fortune.

About twelve years ago, Ole Borgen, the senior partner in the firm, who had for years been breeding high grade Holsteins, secured his first pure-bred heifer from M. T. Allen of Waupaca county. A little later he purchased two more, from the John Erickson herd, these being the only females he has ever bought. All the heifers have been kept and from this foundation stock the firm has at present 30 pure bred cows and heifers showing how rapidly a small initial investment in registered stock will establish a dairyman as a breeder of pure-breds.

Buy Ormsby Calf

About two and a half years ago the Borgens decided to secure a herd sire of the best blood to be had and on a visit to the "Home of the Ormsbys," the famous John B. Irwin farm near Minneapolis, home of a former world's champion cow, they purchased a six months old calf. This calf's sire is regarded as the best individual of King Segie Pontiac Count, a world famous Holstein sire whose daughters have broken more than 100 world records. The calf's dam was a young cow bred in the purple but with only a moderate record of production, and the price paid by Mr. Borgen for his animal was reasonable.

Some time after getting their new sire home, the Amherst men were surprised by a telegram informing them that their bull's dam had just completed a record production of 33 pounds of butter in seven days, and that their animal had become very valuable. A few days later employees of Senator J. M. Hackney of St. Paul, owner of "Count," their bull's grandsire, tried to buy the animal at a high figure, but failed, leaving a fine individual valued at $10,000 still in Portage county.

"Fiarlo Segie Korndyle Ormsby," as the bull is named, recently had his photograph taken by Hildebrand of Chicago, one of the best livestock photographers in America. It is reproduced on this page.

High Prices Paid

Several breeders near the Borgen farm have bred cows to "Fiarlo," paying $100 for a male calf and $150 when the cow has a heifer. Bull calves, sired by him have been purchased during the past year by Herman Otto, Amherst; Morris Johnson, Amherst; Chas. Peterson, Amherst; John Jakubowski, Amherst; Peter Peskie, Stevens Point; Charles Evenson, Scandinavia; Edw. Hebblewhite, Sheridan.

Is Wonderful Sire

Under skillful care the valuable sire has developed into a wonderful animal. Recently his photograph was published in the "Holstein Friesian World," with an account of his pedigree and owners. Borgen & Son are being urged to show him at the State Fair this next year by men interested in other animals of his breeding. It is to be hoped Portage county will have the honor of having him in the competition there.

BUYS AMHERST FARM

Mike Loftis Purchases Dennis Wojak Place Near Junction

Mike Loftis, former chairman of the town of Buena Vista, spent part of Saturday in this city when he completed the purchase of a 110 acre farm in the town of Amherst about two and one half miles west of Amherst village and an equal distance southwest of Amherst Junction.

The purchase was made from Dennis Wojak, who has owned and operated the place for four years. Eighty acres is under the plow and the balance contains a high grade of timber.

Mr. Loftis expects to move there in February, when the Wojak family will become residents of Stevens Point. The head of this latter household is an expert stonemason who is expected to complete the building of a new residence to follow later.

The Loftis family of Buena Vista comprises eight adults and will be retained by the present owner, the reason for his departure being that he has been unable to find a suitable place for his family and children and has decided to leave the latter and move to the city.

AT RAILROAD MEETING

Five Stevens Pointers Spend Sunday at Fond du Lac

F. G. Webb, H. J. Levi, J. R. Ritchey, John McCullum and Frank Wachinski represented Stevens Point at a joint gathering of railway conductors and trainmen at Fond du Lac Sunday.

The afternoon was devoted to business meetings of the O. R. C. and B. R. T. organizations and at 6:30 o'clock a banquet was served to five hundred people, including a large group of Fond du Lac business men. The banquet was prepared primarily as a get-together affair for the railroad boys whose headquarters are at Fond du Lac and those from whom they purchase the wherewith to feed and clothe them. One of the rousing talks of the evening was delivered by Secretary Fitzsimmons of that city's Chamber of Commerce. Other speakers included J. P. Britton of Minneapolis, district general chairman of the O. R. C., Mr. Jordan of Chicago, who is chairman for the conductors in that territory; W. M. McDonald of Minneapolis, B. R. T. general chairman; A. W. Icks of Green Bay, associated with the North Western railroad; A. T. Whitney, of Chicago, vice president of the B. R. T. The latter was booked as the principal speaker and lived up to the expectations of his listeners.

All who went down from Stevens Point felt well repaid for making their journey and pronounced the affair one of the happiest gatherings they ever attended.

OSHKOSH BEATS NORMAL QUINTET BY 25-21 SCORE

Point Scrappiness Holds Sawdust City Cagers Throughout Game

In a game that was a real battle from start to finish, the Oshkosh Normal basketball team defeated the Stevens Point Normal team at the Normal gymnasium Friday evening, 25 to 21.

Oshkosh had to fight every second of the game to maintain a slim lead of one or two points. The Sawdust City team showed an expertness of play that far surpassed Stevens Point's but the Point made up for deficiency in ability by a scrappiness that wore down Oshkosh and gave it few chances at the basket.

Brashers, Oshkosh right forward, was the star of the game. He caged five field baskets and was ever dangerous. McDonald, Oshkosh center, was second highest with three baskets from the floor.

Stevens Point scored first. McCarr tossed a free throw on a foul called on an Oshkosh player, the ball wobbling around the ring and fell out. Andrews tipped the sphere with his fingers and it dropped through.

The lead that Stevens Point gained then was short lived and the only time the locals were ahead. Oshkosh went on top, and remained there to the end, although only one or two points ahead of the Pointers at most times.

The advent of St. Claire and McCoy into the game in the last few minutes put words of "pep" into the Pointers. St. Claire's speed and elusiveness and two goals from the field brought the Point's score well up and threatened a winning rally.

MASH AND NOT SWILL SEIZED SAYS CULVER

Alleged Owner Arraigned In Court Pleads Not Guilty

George Buza, 305 Union street, was arrested Thursday by Chief of Police John S. Hofsoos and Deputy Sheriff Manuel Berry, on a warrant charging him with manufacturing and having in his possession and control mash used in the manufacture of intoxicating liquor.

He was arraigned in county court late that afternoon, where he pleaded not guilty to the charge. His trial was set for January 18 at 9 a. m. and he gave bonds of $200 for his appearance on that date.

Seized In Raid

The alleged mash which is charged Buza had in his possession was seized by members of the local police and sheriff's office in a raid on his home Jan. 6. At that time Buza claimed the mash was swill. A quantity was taken and examined by Prof. G. E. Culver at the Stevens Point State Normal. Prof. Culver reported that the stuff was mash, ready for distillation.

An interesting angle in the arrest of Mr. Buza is the fact that, although it is in reality the second violation of the liquor laws, in the eyes of the law his arraignment in court will be his first.

On June 30, 1921, he was arraigned in county court and paid a fine of $150 and costs after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of violation of the liquor laws. He was arraigned under the Mulberger act, then in force. On July 1 the Severson law, which superseded the Mulberger act went into effect.

For Second Offense

Under the provisions of the Severson act, a second conviction brings both a fine and jail sentence. Had Buza been arraigned a day later last summer he would now be liable to receive a term in jail and a heavy fine if found guilty on the present charge.

A home in the eastern section of the city was visited by officers from the police and sheriff's office late Wednesday afternoon and a search made but no evidence tending to show violation of the liquor laws was found.

OLD SLANDER CASE UP

Action Against E. E. Browne and Others to be Retried at Shawano

An old slander case instituted by Attorney G. H. Putnam of New London against Congressman Edward E. Browne and others, which has been hanging fire since 1913, is to be retried in Shawano county, according to notice served by the plaintiff.

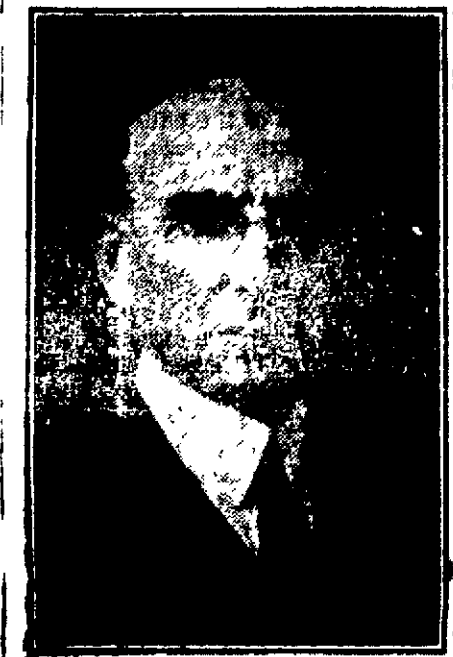

The case was pending in circuit court for Waupaca county during the years 1913 and 1914. In circuit court the defendants were acquitted and Putnam appealed to the supreme court, which remanded the case for a retrial. In 1915 or 1916 the plaintiff secured a change of venue upon filing an affidavit that he feared he could not secure a fair jury in Waupaca county because of prejudice against him.

Since the date of trial set at Shawano as Oct. 27, 1916, at which time the case was postponed on request of Putnam's attorney, four important witnesses have died and others have moved away.

WILSON FOUNDATION CAMPAIGN STARTED

Local Chairman Expects County Quota Will be Over-Subscribed

Beginning today and continuing until next Monday, Jan. 23, a campaign for subscriptions to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation will be conducted throughout the county. The Portage county chairman is W. G. Bate, who already has received many voluntary offerings and from present indications the quota of $400 given him will be over-subscribed by a considerable margin. F. E. Poll of Almond and

KARL MATHIE

Andrew P. Een of Amherst, have been asked to assist in their respective communities and it is probable that other residents of outlying towns and villages will also be called upon to lend their aid.

At the three Stevens Point banks and the public library subscriptions will be taken. Committees representing the Women's club and Progress club will also take an active interest in the undertaking.

All who wish to take part in this laudable purpose of raising a fund of $1,000,000 should express their interest in a substantial manner during the present week.

Karl Mathie of Wausau is state chairman in the movement to honor former President Wilson through the foundation and perfected plans for the opening today.

LAST MATCH SAVES SHIPWRECKED CREW

Two Days and Two Nights Adrift Without Water, Eight Seamen Near Death; Rescued

New York, Jan. 16—Lashed in a lost derelict swept by the mountainous sea off New Jersey coast, during the terrific storm of last Friday, eight men of the crew of the James Hall lighted their last match in a desperate effort to attract aid, and were brought here to tell a sea tale of unsurpassed suffering with a happy ending today.

For two days and nights, Captain Cole of the Hall and seven of his crew were without food or water. They signaled in vain until they reached their last match. Filling a dishpan with gasoline, they touched off a flare which attracted the attention of the steamer West Canon, which rescued the men on the Hall and brought them to New York.

RAPIDS THEATRE IS TOTAL LOSS IN NIGHT BLAZE

Damage of More Than $45,000 Results When Building is Destroyed

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Jan. 14—Fire which broke out early this morning in the Daly theatre building here completely destroyed the structure and all of its contents, resulting in damage estimated at more than $45,000.

Heavy losses were suffered by John E. Daly, the owner, by the J. Booze Barber shop and the W. H. Young shoe repair shop, which were housed in the building, and by the Earl Young Stock company, which showed at the theatre this week.

Theatre a Fire Trap

The theatre, a fire trap and a frame structure 40 years old, was discovered in flames at 2 o'clock and firemen worked at the scene for two hours but were unable to save anything. Inadequate water pressure caused by frozen hydrants hindered the fire fighting work. The origin of the blaze is unknown. It is believed that it might have started from a cigarette butt, carelessly thrown down in some part of the building after the Friday night show.

The building was valued at $15,000 and insurance carried amounted to only $5,000. The contents of the theatre, valued at several thousand, were not insured.

Actors Left Stranded

The Earl Young Stock company lost everything it had, including scenery, make-up equipment, clothing, trunks, manuscripts and other theatrical property, and places its loss as high as $25,000 today. Not a cent of insurance was carried. The company is left stranded as a result of the fire and the local Elks' lodge has arranged a show for Sunday night, which members of the cast will put on, to be given as a benefit for them.

Burns to Ground

With the complete destruction of the building, nothing remained standing except a portion of the front wall, which will probably be torn down at once to prevent it from caving in. Practically nothing was saved from the barber shop, the shoe repair shop or the theatre.

INDUSTRIAL ADVANTAGES OFFERED IN THIS CITY

Last Slogan Bulletin and Hereafter City's Needs are to be Featured

"Stevens Point offers exceptional industrial advantages."

This is the weekly slogan of the Chamber of Commerce and refers to Stevens Point's cheap power, its favorable location, distribution facilities and its plentiful supply of contented labor.

Hereafter the slogan plan is to be superseded by terse statements, to be issued weekly, relative to the needs of the city. For example, one might read: "Stevens Point needs a boot and shoe factory."

Business houses will be asked to continue typing the current message on the foot of all letterheads mailed out of the city as one way of boosting and advertising Stevens Point.

BAND FOR AMHERST NOW A SURE THING

Reorganization is Completed and Experienced Leader is to be Secured

A movement for the reorganization of the band at Amherst has been successfully carried out. Financial support has been pledged and many musicians have been signed up.

At a meeting held in the community room of the International bank on Tuesday evening of last week, plans were discussed for the new organization and the following directors were elected: Joseph Kurkowski, L. A. Hanson and R. L. Peterson.

A second meeting is to be held at the American Legion hall at Amherst next Tuesday evening when the first practice will be held. L. A. Hanson will act as temporary leader but it is expected that the services of an experienced band leader will be secured in the near future. Ernest Weber of this city formerly directed the band.

The movement for the reorganization was started by Mr. Kurkowski.

LIQUOR DEALERS ADMIT THE BRIBING OF DRY OFFICIAL

Further Proof Against Men Accused in This State is Revealed in Chicago

Milwaukee, Jan. 16—Harry Fox and Charles Crosscuth, Chicago liquor dealers, pleaded guilty today to charges of conspiracy to bribe E. Herzog, former dry enforcement officer, contained in two indictments against them, when arraigned before Judge Anderson, Indianapolis, in federal district court today.

The mysterious "Jacob Lederer" whose name five carloads of whisky were shipped to Milwaukee in 1926 is alleged to be Feuer.

Joseph Budar, Milwaukee cafe owner, co-defendant on one of the charges, pleaded guilty. The indictment which the defendants are Walter Burke, Kenosha attorney, Fei Grosscuth, Budar and Joseph C. ter, will come up first.

Since all the other defendants have entered pleas of guilty, it has been in the trial solely of Burke. A motion for a separate trial for Burke which was to have been argued before the opening of the trial, was quashed when pleas of guilty of the other defendants made it unnecessary.

ONLY ONE JUSTICE ELECTED AT A TIME

Attorney General Says Second pointee Must Hold Over, While Burr Jones Runs

Madison, Jan. 16—Only one Wisconsin supreme court justice can be elected in April, 1922, although there are two vacancies caused by deaths, attorney general's office in an opinion given to Elmer S. Hall, secretary state, said today.

Election of a successor to Just Burr W. Jones, appointed to fill vacancy caused by death in 1920, Justice John B. Winslow, will be because that vacancy preceded the death of Justice J. Kerwin in 1921, and because the constitution specifies that not more than one justice shall be elected one year.

Burr W. Jones has begun circulation of nomination papers for reelection to the bench. He is the only candidate.

Let the Eagle Scream!

Why is an eagle imprinted on a silver dollar and not an ostrich?

The eagle is a fighter. The ostrich is a quitter. It doesn't take much to scare an ostrich—when he gets scared he sticks his head in the sand and then it is an easy matter to steal his tail feathers for your hat.

The eagle, the fighter, is an American bird. That is why he is imprinted on your dollar. Your dollar should be a fighter, a fighting eagle, ever on the the lookout for b a r g a i n opportunities and swift to take advantage of them.

If you want that fighting eagle on your dollar to do his best for you, then let him loose in Stevens Point Thursday, January 19, when he will bring back to you some of the greatest bargains ever heard of any place at any time.

Dollar Day is not an innovation in this city because the merchants of Stevens Point have a reputation for giving a hundred cents' value for every dollar expended. But on this occasion they are going to go that one better—they're actually going to give more than a hundred cents' value for a dollar in many articles for which there is everyday demand.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes that the people of this vicinity will realize that industrially the nation is dependent upon its citizens doing their share toward expediting the putting of factories and mills on full time. This can be done by the buying public anticipating their requirements and filling them. Every dollar spent means the creation of a demand for merchandise which American labor produces.

It is hoped that the people will enter whole-heartedly into the spirit of Dollar Day.

Let's make 1922 a winner!

"IRISH" POTATO IS FOUND TO BE NATIVE OF AMERICA

The name Irish potato is a misnomer, for the potato is really a native of America. It was discovered here in 1492 by Europeans and first used by them as an article of food. It is found growing wild in various parts of South America. It is used as food all over the world. The reason it was called the Irish potato is because it was adopted as one of the chief articles of food by the Irish people, and is one of the principal food products of Ireland. The potato famine in Ireland in 1845-46 resulted in many deaths from starvation and caused many of the Irish to migrate to America.—National Republican

LITTLE CHILDREN MAKE LONG TRIP TO A NEW HOME

Mollie and Lillian Blander Come to Stevens Point From Warsaw

Traveling alone all the way from Warsaw, Poland, to America, a distance of more than 5,000 miles, Lillian and Mollie Blander, aged 10 and 12 years respectively, have had experiences which have not been equaled by any children of their age in Stevens Point and perhaps throughout the state of Wisconsin.

They came to Stevens Point from Warsaw to live with their father, Joe Blander, Fremont street, whom they had not seen since they were little children. Since the death of their grandparents in Warsaw last May with whom they had been living, they have lived among friends, and set out on the long journey to what to them was a new world, without a friend to accompany them.

Life in Warsaw Hard

Life in Warsaw has been hard, the little white faces of the two girls show. Although they have been in America a month or more, and in Stevens Point for several weeks, their white, pale complexions and manner bear witness to the life they have lived in the section of Europe which suffered tortures during the World war from which the country is now but slowly recovering.

Joe Blander, the father of the two children, came to Stevens Point eight years ago, leaving his wife and family in Poland, with the promise that in a few years he would bring them to a new home in America. Shortly after his arrival here he received word that his wife had died. The two children, Lillian and Mollie, who were little tots when their mother died, were given to the care of their grandparents.

War Halts Plans

Mr. Blander hoped to bring his children to America to live with him. Before he could carry this thought into action, the World war broke out and made it impossible for him to get them out of Europe, for they were in the center of the conflict. In America he married again. Throughout the war Mr. Blander thought often of his children, but as it dragged along he knew he could do nothing.

The war ended and day after day passed as the red tape of the immigration laws unwound. When the grandparents died, leaving the children alone and destitute, the matter came to a head. Mr. Blander sent word and money to Poland, to bring his children to America.

Heads Shaved

Friends with whom they lived after the death of their grandparents prepared them for the long journey. Their hair was shaved off close to their scalps. That was done to prevent their heads from becoming tented on the long journey. Steamship passage was secured, and the long journey, overland through Germany to the seacoast, was begun.

Their trip across the ocean was a hardship in itself. They lived in the steerage 13 days, crowded in with all kinds and qualities of humanity. The arrival in sight of America and the statue of Liberty, meant, to them, the end of a journey that seemed a terrible dream.

At Ellis Island

At Ellis Island, where all immigrants are landed and examined before being admitted to the United States, their dreams of immediate entrance into the new world were shattered. The immigration quota of December was filled, the officers at the Island curtly told them. All was strange about them, bewildering. Someone said they would have to return to Europe.

Leaves Stevens Point

About the time they were on the ship, crossing the Atlantic, Mrs. Blander, of this city, their step-mother, left Stevens Point for New York to greet them and bring them to their new home. She visited relatives there. The ship arrived and the immigrants were landed. Mrs. Blander found that to get to even see the children, her step-daughters, was a task in itself.

For two days she stood in line from 8 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the evening, waiting for her name to be called giving her permission to see the two girls. Finally, towards the close of the last day, her name was reached and she went through the necessary formalities that would admit her to the section where the newcomers were, as she says, actually herded together.

In Line Two Days

On the two days she spent on the island she was forced to get up at five o'clock in the morning to get to the dock and take the first boat to the Island. The last boat left at six in the evening, and it was 12 before she returned to the home where she was staying.

Mrs. Blander sent word home of the situation, how the children were being held, and asking him to do all that he could. Mr. Blander interviewed Mayor J. N. Welsh and the mayor wired Congressman E. E. Browne, telling him that Mr. Blander was financially able to care for the children, and asking that he interview immigration officials, using his influence to do all that he could. Mr. Browne wired an answer that he had taken the matter up with the proper authorities.

Only the fact that President Harding made a Christmas present of entrance to all immigrants qualified for entrance to the United States, but who were held back by the fact that the quota was filled, made possible the last lap of the little girls' trip to Stevens Point. On Christmas day, after a stay of two weeks in the crowded immigrant station, the children were released, and they arrived in Stevens Point accompanied by Mrs. Blander, just a few days before the New Year. In New York they had changed their provincial clothing of Poland to the new dresses of America.

Joyful Welcome

A joyful welcome was their lot when they arrived in Stevens Point. Although they talk little English, they are already beginning to pick up the mannerisms of American children and their faces are beginning to take on color.

With the opening of the schools here January 9, Lillian and Mollie were enrolled here. They had been attending school in Poland, and were well advanced, but the fact that they speak no English, made necessary their entrance in the first grade in the Jefferson school. Lillian and Mollie are impatient to learn, Mrs. Blander says. They easily master the simple tasks of the children in the primary grades and grasp new work quickly.

PASTOR AT WAUPACA AND AMHERST LEAVES

Rev. Charles E. Coon Transferred to Janesville-Canal Zone

Man Coming

Rev. Charles E. Coon, who has been in charge of the Methodist churches at Amherst and Waupaca for the past two and one-half years, has been transferred to a much larger charge at Janesville, Wis., and will take up his duties as head of the congregation there at once.

Concerning his leaving, the Amherst Advocate says: "During his period as pastor of the Amherst church he has accomplished much good work and was instrumental in enlarging the local church building, and in many ways strengthening the local institution. He has proven himself a splendid church worker and has won a host of friends here who will be sorry to have him leave."

Rev. E. M. Oliver, who has spent the past two and one-half years in the Canal Zone, will be placed in charge of the Amherst congregation, but will be unable to begin there for five or six weeks. Until his arrival the pulpit will be otherwise supplied.

MARKET SQUARE PLAN FAVORED AT CHIPPEWA

Stables for Horses, Rest Rooms and Comfort Stations to be Provided

Chippewa Falls' need of a market place, together with sheds, rest rooms, and comfort stations for the benefit of farmers was urged at a meeting of merchants and business men in the city hall there Thursday night.

A committee was named to work with the board of directors of the commercial association to secure estimates of the cost of such an undertaking and to look over suitable sites.

Stables to take care of farmers' horses was advocated here a few days ago but the plan did not meet with favor. It will probably be tried out on the new Chippewa market.

MERRILL FIRM PLANS BIG CUT OF TIMBER

Tract 11 Miles Long and Nine Miles Wide to Come Down in Next 15 Years

"The buzz saw mill days will be heard in Merrill for years to come despite the frequently expressed fear that something must replace the wood industry to insure the future of Northern Wisconsin's cities," says the Merrill Daily Herald.

"While only four mills are the city's lot today as compared with more than double the number a decade or two ago, the modern saw mill has double the capacity. In view of the importance of a single modern saw mill as an industrial asset to the city, it will be particularly welcome news to know that the A. H. Stange company's saw mill, which finished its timber cut near Sawyer a year ago, has made arrangements for a twelve to fifteen year cut north and northeast of Star Lake. This fine tract of timber is made up of about equally of pine, hemlock and hardwoods and contains some choice virgin pine. It is the last stand of timber owned in Wisconsin by the Stange company, and is eleven miles in length and nine miles wide at its greatest width. It borders the north Michigan line."

TO JUNK OLD BRIDGE

This is to be received at Wisconsin Rapids for the old bridge across the Wisconsin Rapids, being replaced by a new one of concrete. The structure will be taken down in such a way that it will be impossible to re-erect it and the sale will presumably be for junk value of the steel in it.

KRUMREY DIES IN A COTTAGE AT PLYMOUTH

Broken In Health and Market Going Against Him, He Gives Up

Plymouth, Wis., Jan. 11.—Henry Krumrey, president of the Wisconsin Cheese Federation and a great La Follette leader, was found dead hanging in a cottage at Crystal Lake, near here, late last night.

Rich and Losing Money

According to friends of the dead man, he had been in ill health for several months, and a recent slump in the cheese market was said to have worried him considerably.

In Public Eye

Krumrey, formerly a state senator and La Follette delegate to the last Republican convention at Chicago, was often mentioned as a possible candidate for governor.

Krumrey's reputation as a dairy expert was nation-wide. He was instrumental in joining the Wisconsin Cheese Producers Cooperative Association with the Minnesota federation, giving the consolidated organization complete domination of the world's cheese industry.

Staunch for Bob

Krumrey was one of the first Republican members of the assembly under the governorship of Robert M. La Follette, having been chosen to the assembly in 1900.

In 1919 he was elected state senator, serving one term. Krumrey was district delegate to the Chicago National convention at Chicago in 1916 where Charles E. Hughes was nominated as candidate for president.

In 1920 he was one of the four Wisconsin delegates at large to the national Republican convention at Chicago, which nominated Warren G. Harding as candidate for the presidency. He has always been a consistent Republican and a staunch supporter of La Follette.

Third Loss in Year

Krumrey's death marked the third death of Progressive Republicans in Wisconsin within the last year. James Thompson, candidate for United States senator at the last election, died at Eau Claire last summer. Henry Coehens, prominent in legal and political circles died at Denver, Col., in the fall.

RAID SALOON NEXT TO CHIEF'S OFFICE

Fined Bottle of Alleged Liquor in Coal Shed at Gornowicz's Establishment

A pint bottle of a liquid which is alleged to be "moonshine" was seized by members acknowledging party composed of men of the police and sheriff's office, on the premises of the saloon conducted by John Gornowicz on North Third street on Friday.

Mr. Gornowicz's saloon, which is located next door to the office of the Chief of Police John S. Hofsoos, was visited late Friday afternoon by the raiding party. The establishment was thoroughly searched, and the bottle of alleged intoxicating liquor was found in a coal shed at the rear of the saloon.

Mr. Gornowicz denied having any knowledge of the liquor. He is to be arraigned in county court late this afternoon on a charge of having intoxicating liquor in his possession and control, and it was understood today that he was prepared to fight the case.

Two other local saloons were visited and searches of the buildings made by the officers, but no intoxicating liquor was found in either place. One of the saloons is located on the South side and the other near the public square.

RECALL ORRIN MAYBE

Portage County Pioneer One of First Whites in the Woods

Old timers in Stevens Point and Amherst who remember Orrin Maybe, one of the best known pioneers of Portage county, will be especially interested in the following paragraph, from the Wausau Pilot's "Occurrences of Long Ago" and first published in its issue of Jan. 8, 1920:

Orrin Maybe, a resident of Portage county, was a Wausau visitor last week. Mr. Maybe was one of the first white men who ever visited this section, being one of the party who made the first government survey along the Wisconsin river. Fifty-two years ago last Thursday evening he and his companions camped upon the now vacant site of the old Lake Shore House. That was Jan. 3, 1867. Up to that time the foot of no white man had ever trod the forests thus far; there was where Wausau now proudly rears her head, no human habitation; the woodsman's axe has never here been heard, and where a prosperous city now stands, was nothing but a wilderness.

Hundred Thousand For Good Home Man Awaits in Citizens

So encouraging is the outlook for the Citizens National bank, expressed following the annual meeting last week, that Cashier A. C. Kingston indicated to the Journal that he now has $100,000 or more on hand ready for loans to farmers and local business men on good security and for local agricultural and industrial purposes. The bank does not believe in loaning for outside speculation, but wishes to do its utmost to encourage farmers to get on their feet and home business men to carry out their programs within reasonable limits.

Excellent condition of the bank was a matter for congratulation among the directors who believe that under the management of President Oberweiser and Cashier Kingston it has ahead of it an area of great growth and usefulness.

The following directors were elected: E. A. Oberweiser, Judge John A. Murat, W. T. Whiting, Charles A. Hamacher, A. C. Kingston, Judge Byron B. Park, D. E. Frost, Dr. L. P. Pasternacki.

The directors elected these officers: President, E. A. Oberweiser. Vice-president, John A. Murat. Cashier, A. C. Kingston. Assistant Cashier, C. W. Nason.

ROSY PREDICTIONS ARE MADE BY LUTHER

Keener Interest in Community Breed Associations Among Things Predicted

That there will be a big increase in the number of pure bred bulls used in Wisconsin in 1922; that there will be a keener interest in community breed associations; that the county agent will be appreciated more than ever before, and that there will be a mighty campaign waged within the state for more clover during the coming year are the prophecies of E. L. Luther, superintendent of farm institutes, College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Luther is basing his opinion regarding the increased use of pure bred bulls on the fact that the market for good stock in Wisconsin is practically exhausted and he believes the farmers will increase their breed to overcome the shortage. Mr. Luther believes that there is an unlimited demand for dairy cattle in states such as the Dakotas and Kansas, where dairying is new.

In helping with problems such as these, Mr. Luther believes that the county agent will be appreciated as he never has been appreciated before.

TITTEMORE MAY TRY FOR U. S. SENATOR JOB

J. N. Tittmore, of Omro, well known in this city, may be a candidate for United States senator to succeed Robert M. La Follette. That is the gossip on the political rattle of Milwaukee, where politicians have been gathered to sound out the feeling of the state's voters. Mr. Tittmore has had considerable experience as a candidate, having made two campaigns for election as governor and, serving three terms as president of the Wisconsin Union of the American Society of Equity.

TWO YEAR TERM FOR AUTO THIEF ARRESTED HERE

Wausau Judge Sentences Palmer Acheson to Green Bay Reformatory

Palmer J. Acheson, Neenah, apprehended here on Thanksgiving day on behalf of Wausau officials on the charge of the larceny of an automobile, two rifles, a revolver and an automatic pistol, valued in all at $2,000, was on Thursday sentenced to serve two years in the state reformatory in Green Bay.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Reid at Wausau following Acheson's arraignment at his own request. After the reading of the information statements were made to the court by District Attorney G. J. Leicht, Detective Henry Schweitzer, Attorney E. P. Gorman of Wausau, who appeared for the defendant, and by the defendant himself. At the conclusion the judge ordered the young man to serve a two year term at Green Bay.

Stole Car With Deer

On the evening of November 23, last, C. S. Schultz and C. L. Thompson of Neenah arrived in Wausau with a deer fastened to the running board of their automobile. The car was parked on Third street near the court house while the men secured dinner. When they returned the car, deer and hunting outfit were missing. The trail was taken up by the officers and led to Mosinee, where the deer was found beside the road. The trail was followed on to the Bevent, then to Elderon and on to Iola, and the next night Acheson was taken into custody in this city after he had offered resistance. All of the stolen articles were recovered.

mittee of National Organization

Grades for Makers

Two grades are established: Wisconsin Fancy and Wisconsin No. 1. All other Badger cheese of the American types will be designated as Grade 2. For a year the Wisconsin department of markets has worked with the U. S. bureau of markets in the compilation of cheese grade requirements. Wisconsin is the first state to have the approval of the federal government in the adoption of these standards.
